

New Talent Attraction Available to Indiana Small Businesses

Project Details

- The Indiana SBDC has launched HireUp, an employment support program to help small businesses recruit, hire and onboard employees essential to the business' operations.
- Eligible companies partner with Quintegra, an Indianapolis-based talent connection firm, to identify qualified candidates, provide screening and background checks, facilitate interviews and establish an onboarding process to ensure continued success of the employee.
- Example positions include, but are not limited to, programmers, general managers, accountants, export development managers and licensed therapists.

Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible, small businesses must meet the following criteria:

- Be or become an Indiana SBDC client,
- Have the intent to hire within 30-60 days after entering the program,
- Hire a full time, W-2 employee, and
- Must not have previously participated in the program.

Application

- Competitive applicants will lack a defined and effective hiring process and can demonstrate hiring challenges.
- Applicants will be connected with their Indiana SBDC regional office for an initial meeting to confirm eligibility and walk through what to expect before their application is submitted for approval.
- The program application is available here.
